THE BUDGET OF URUGUAY.

The republic of Uruguay is the smallest in South America, but if we are to judge the wealth of a nation by its revenue it is one of the richest countries in the world, with regard to population. In effect the revenue receipts for 10 years ending December 1890 averaged $11,540,000 per annum, or £4 sterling per inhabitant.

Meantime the expenditure averaged $17,020,000, leaving an annual deficit of 5,500,000 dollars, which in 10 years added $55,000,000 to the public debt.

Under such circumstances a rigid course of economy was incumbent on the Government, but the expenditure voted by Congress in the last two years was greatly in excess of revenue, as appears from Pres. Herrera's Message of the 12th inst. viz:

	1890	1891
	$	$
Expenditure voted.....	17,446,000	15,246,000
Actual receipts	13,288,000	12,906,000
Deficit..	4,158,000	2,340,000

Thus in two years we find a further deficit of $7,000,000, and we are totally at a loss to guess how it was met, although Pres. Herrera makes it appear that he contrived to pay his way by cutting down the expenditure, except a balance of $500,000 still outstanding.

Meantime we have no explicit statement of the actual expenditure in the years 1890-91, and on this head we regret that Pres. Herrera did not imitate Minister Hansen, who shews minutely every item of revenue and expenses. The Message before us confines itself to bulk statements, on the faith of which the estimates for 1893 are put down as follows:—

	$
Expenditure....	13,616,000
Revenue	12,986,000
Deficit....	630,000

It is proposed to meet this deficit by a new Legacy-duty of 2 per cent and an increase of the tax on cattle killed for the Montevidean market.

In looking over the revenue returns, we are surprised to see how little they have been affected by the crisis. The receipts are still on the average for the period of 10 years ending 1890, whereas in the Argentine Republic they are much lower. Hence we are inclined to believe that with strict economy Uruguay ought to be able to pay her way without any necessity for fresh taxes.

The Message before us, however, is so confused that it is impossible to arrive at a clear understanding of the financial position of the country. There is, for example, an item of $1,000,000 for loans to the National Bank and the Mortgage Bank, which should not enter into national expenditure. If the said Banks or their shareholders be unable to meet their liabilities let them be wound up as quickly as possible. Otherwise those institutions may be carried on from year to year by means of Government loans, without anybody knowing what becomes of the money.

SCOTCH CHURCH YOUNG MEN'S SOCIETY.

This Society held an open meeting on Thursday evening, when the President, the Rev. J. W. Fleming, B.D., delivered a lecture on "James Russell Lowell."

With the remark that it was too soon to decide upon Lowell's position on the roll of fame, the lecturer disclaimed the function of critic, and said that his intention was simply to review, as fully as time would permit, his author's life and works, in the hope that some would be induced to give the latter the attention they deserved.

He briefly sketched the life of Lowell, and described his political career as without a flaw, unless it were for his silence in face of anti-English agitation in his native country, the unfairness of which he might have exposed, but did not.

Passing to Lowell's literary work, the lecturer quoted from some of the best of his prose Essays, which he said were remarkable for keenness of insight and delicate feeling, while they exhibited an astonishingly varied erudition without any trace of pedantry. He then briefly outlined the Biglow Papers, to which he doubted if any permanent value could be attached, while he recognised their humorous and sarcastic power. The serious poetry of Lowell he regarded as his most solid contribution to literature, combining as it does the deepest religious feeling with a generous sympathy for suffering, and a noble indignation against oppression and wrong. These features and the beauty of expression found in such poems as "Sir Launfal" constitute them part of the imperishable inheritance of the English-speaking races.

A vote of thanks to the lecturer terminated the meeting, which is the last of the season except for the "Social and Musical Evening" which will be held on 22nd inst. not on 29th, as previously arranged.

OUR LONDON LETTER

THE POLITICAL FUTURE.

London, Aug. 12th

That old phrase "the game of politics" is at this moment suggestive of much reflection on the political future of this country. The present parliament is perhaps one of the last in which the game will be played by "gentlemen players," and according to old rules. Much depends upon the details and results of the coming Home Rule measure; but this we can say so far, that the Irish party and the Labour party in the House of Commons are the only ones that are sternly, viciously, in earnest. The Irish party has taught the English democracy more than one lesson, and is responsible for much of that eagerness for drastic reforms which Mr. Gladstone in his speech on the amendment to the address characterised as unprecedented in its growth during the last six years. He may have meant to insinuate the recent justification of an old saying, that "the Tories in office is the Radicals' opportunity."

Mr. Gladstone, however, in spite of his repeating that Home Rule for Ireland was now the one object of his political existence, seems fully impressed with the fact that, if it be the menial duty of the Conservatives in office to heat the water for the British democracy, it is for their Liberal successors to make the tea, if not to taste it.

One of the last examples of the old mode of playing at politics was Lord Salisbury's determination to face the new parliament instead of resigning when the result of the elections was known. I cannot see that he and his party have saved any of their dignity by the delay, and they have certainly wasted much valuable time useful to them, to the public and to pleasure seekers. All they have done is to give individuals on both sides opportunities for distinguishing themselves in brilliant orations, and to extend the time for jobberies. Some of these have been gross.

The "Lord High Jobber"—Gifford—is of course well to the fore in these matters; and Mr. Tim Healy accused the Irish Secretary of having made forty appointments within the last four or five days. Mr. Jackson repudiated with much temper the scandalous imputation. Mr. Healy gave his authority, the Dublin Government, but graciously agreed to "attenuate" his statements, in which were included the detail that some of the new appointments in Ireland were held by relatives of the Secretary. Lord Salisbury, too, is quite the man to look after "his own;" that is, his own friends and supporters, whilst steadfastly refusing for himself the dignity of a dukedom the Queen again presses him to accept. Possibly, this time the known wishes of themarchioness and family ambitions will prevail. The days of "Keir-Hardiehood" are not yet. The next stop-gap Government may be mainly composed of dukes. The duke of Newcastle will perhaps photograph the lot. Photography is the duke's hobby. He was recently picture-taking in the New Forest, when he was met by a party of English gentlemen—let us say tourists—who, not knowing how great a personage the strolling photographer was, said, "here! you fellow, take us." The duke did; but he would not give them their portraits. He kept them as a memorial of their impudence. When the awful truth was afterwards revealed to the tourists they must have shaken in their shoes. "Duke" is a blessed word, deeply engraven in our hearts. It appeals to the imagination and kindles in the minds of all of us glorious visions of the making, taking and baking of England. She is not half baked yet. Our radicals and socialists are but the blisters and bubbles of the rising loaf. Mr. Keir Hardie, who is now very much in evidence as the champion of the Labour party, only makes a spectacle of himself by asserting his claims in the House of Commons in the costume of a rough. The democracy of the blouse has not succeeded in France; and it will succeed in no old country It is already superseded by Socialism, which has a higher ideal than a dead equality of spitting, wage-hunting superior artisans. Mr. Hardie may learn something from Mr. Blake, the Irish-American, born in Ontario and the son of a man who [illegible]s himself a personage in the country of his adoption. Mr. Blake is now an English M. P., and comes here with high credentials His own modest object is to explain to us the principles of Home Rule from a colonial point of view and to heal the divisions between the two factions of the Irish party. So far, he has explained Home Rule at the Eighty Club in a carefully written speech, and has already done more than any to open the minds of Englishmen to the practical merits of that measure. Last night he presided at a meeting of the Home Rule Union. He was supported by other colonial dignitaries. Native—that is Irish Home Rulers, were conspicuously absent. For one thing, most of the Irish leaders were engaged at the House. Still it is an unsettled problem, whether Healyites and Redmondites will consent to rally under the lead of a Colonial, who may aspire to be the coming Parnell of the Irish party. The Redmondites have begun well by frankly joining the Nationalists in supporting Mr. Gladstone in the present debate.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

Friday Evening.

Colonel Manuel M. Puentes, one of the most prominent leaders of the National party, died yesterday after a long and painful illness in the Hotel de Paris. The death is also announced of Señora Matilda Romero de Cortina, who was held in high esteem in social circles here.

The authorities are evidently on the track of the murderers of the Traversi family. The crime would appear to have been committed by a band of them.

It seems that the Legislature is favorably disposed towards the Government bills for fresh taxes, which will be passed, although it is openly rumored that the Budget will be laid aside and the present one resanctioned.

In reference to the much talked of five million loan the official organ in its issue of to-day states that Government continues to receive very favourable advices from Paris and that the business will soon be finished.

Some political excitement is beginning to manifest itself owing to the manifesto issued by the Committee of the National party, calling on all the members there of to unite for the next presidential struggle. The president of the Committee is now Juan Jose de Herrera.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

The third Feria Rural in Bragado was opened on Thursday with great "eclat." The imposing person of the Mayor was conspicuous in the crowd, which numbered some two thousand easy-going, well-fed citizens, who felt somewhat stiffer in the back and three inches taller than usual, in view of the great success of the fair and the credit it reflects on Bragado. There was a band of music in attendance, and the imposing strains of the National Hymn, coupled with the neighing of horses, the bleating of sheep and the bellowing of the sturdy specimens of the bovine family caused to vibrate with emotion all the chords of the Bragadense heart. It was a grand spectacle. Some people were in evening-dress, while others more anxious to effect sales than to please the numerous representatives of the fair sex, were rushing about with their coats off. We derive all this information from a private source, and we are glad to be able to add that numerous sales of live-stock were realized on the opening day. There seems to be quite a craze to purchase good blood, and a very excellent craze this is. The quality of the live-stock of the queen-province has improved wonderfully within the last few years and is daily improving. But there is one great difficulty which estancieros have to cope with in the improvement of their breeds. We mean the comparative impunity with which cattle-thieving is carried on. Some of the finest animals have fallen into the hands of cattle-thieves, who scruple not to slaughter them, to sell the hides and grease. It is to be hoped that the energetic efforts which Mr. Carlos Guerrero and others are making to found an institution for the protection of estancieros' interests will succeed in setting up a strong barrier against cattle-thieving.

The Corrientes Government appear to have no regard for the Constitution. Some time ago they had a little revolution the result of which is unknown to the general public. Now we note that the Government are creating a "batallon." The difficulty of finding soldiers has been surmounted thanks to the energy of the Government, who have forced some pacific people to enter the service. The good Correntinos are in great fear that this new battalion will, like the prison-guard some time ago, mutiny and sack the town, and then clear out to form the nucleus of a political party. These provincial prison-guards constitute a very dangerous element, when they begin to mix with politics.

THE RIACHUELO CANAL.

I notice in yours of yesterday the 13th. a few remarks from 'Observer' in reference to the above canal, adding that he would like to read the opinions of Engineers. The original designer of the canal was Mr. J J. Berg, assistant to J. F. Bateman Esq. C.E. Upon the first page of Bateman's report he says he left England 9th. November 1870 and had previously sent out a very competent assistant, Mr Berg, to obtain preliminary information. Also page 12 says:—'A new outlet to the Riachuelo and a dredged channel to 8 or 9 feet at low water in the River Plate and a canal of communication within the embankment between the Boca and the proposed Dock This canal will bring the new port and the Riachuelo into the closest connexion and afford the utmost facility for the lighter trade of the Port". Also in Mr. Bateman's report upon the water supply of Buenos Ayres accompanied by a large plan No. 3 the exact canal is shown upon the plan. I will also refer to Señor Don Luis A Huergo's book published 3 years afterwards page 90 (After Mr. Berg had left the country):—Los planos que tengo el honor de presentar son propiedad de la Provincia con cuyos dineros se han pagado los estudios. Page 91 says:—"It is most clear that the Canal de Entrada was designed by Mr. Bateman's assistant Mr. J J. Berg and not by Mr Luis A Huergo."

The constant complaint of vessels grounding in this Canal de Entrada is due to the fact, as Observer remarks, that the canal ought never to have been made in the position it is in, and will either become useless or require constant dredging and consequently very heavy expenses every year.

If the dredges cease to work the canal will become useless and silted up, because it is placed across the currents of the waters that supply the Rio de la Plata with water (viz) the Rio Uruguay and Rio Parana. Also to make matters very much worse, Señor Huergo cut off a large piece of land at the Vuelta de Rocha, causing an eddy and preventing the current of water proceeding direct along the course of the Riachuelo, whereas this position was and is the very best locality for dry docks, being in direct communication with all the railways, tramways etc. to and from the city? Of what use would be Dry Docks at the North end of the city? All should be combined and confined to the same locality where the vessels could get into them, and not at the North end. Bye the bye these docks are rightly named 'dry-docks' because they would scarcely ever have water in them sufficient to float a vessel, and I presume this is another little 'negocio'. The Government have plenty of dredges and Steam, power and the Boca requires the earth, but up to the present this channel has not been properly dredged. If it were, the whole of the Malecons would fall in, the piles not having been driven deep enough In fact the Government Engineers must know the fault and consequently will not have the dredges to work properly.

What is required is to straighten the Riachuelo and thus give a stronger and quicker current of water. Observer is in error when supposing that if the canal was shortened it would become improved; quite the reverse would be the case. What it wants is widening, extending and back water from the Riachuelo.

Before long there will be far more difficulties in the Rio de la Plata, all through Government neglect.

Yours etc.

THE PNEUMATIC DYNAMITE SEA COAST GUN.

(Communicated.)

This weapon of warfare is likely to supersede any of the motive or stationary torpedoes that have been introduced for coast defence.

This weapon is the aerial torpedo-thrower or pneumatic dynamite gun which has been purchased by our military authorities from the Government of Victoria, Australia, having been manufactured by the West Point Foundry at Gold Spring-on-Hudson in the United States. The most remarkable feature connected with the introduction of this weapon into the armament of our coast-line defences has been the entire absence of all notoriety in the transaction. So phenomenal was its power of accuracy at long ranges when tried at Shoeburyness in January and February of last year that the heads of artillery, engineer and other departments were absolutely petrified with its success. The Victorian Gun, for which England has paid a large sum, has proved to be an excellent investment. The arrangements for training and elevation are modified in the Victorian gun, which may be worked either by hand or by an electric motor. The 15 in. aerial torpedo-thrower, now introduced as a British service weapon for coast defence, resembles in appearance a powder-gun; the barrel is of cast iron, smooth bore, made in 3 sections, the walls being 1¼ in. in thickness. The gun can be traversed 360 deg. and elevated 35 deg. The air pressure is usually 1000 lb. per square inch. Two types of projectiles are now used in various sizes, known as full calibres and sub-calibres.

The full calibre fills the bore of the gun completely.

The shells for a 15 in. gun are about 10 feet long. Total weight when filled 1000 lb., containing 500 lb. of high explosive.

Sub-calibre shells 6 in. dia. 6 ft. long, weight 150 lb, charge 50 lb. There are three sizes up to 10 in. dia., 7 ft. 8 in long, weight 500 lb.

Charge 200 lbs. The range of the gun depends upon the pressure of compressed air, the cut-off, the elevation of the piece and the kind of projectile used. With 1000 lbs pressure per square inch, a maximum cut-off and an elevation of 35 deg., the range of a full calibre projectile weighing 1000 lbs. is about 2700 yards or one and a-half mile; that of the 10th sub-calibre weighing 500 lbs. is about 4000 yards or two and a-quarter miles, and that of an 8 in. sub-calibre weighing 300 lbs. is about 5000 yards or 2¾ miles.

The projectiles are not made for penetration, but at Shoeburyness a 10 in. sub-calibre weighing 500 lbs. was fired into a butt of sand situated 600 yards from the gun, and it penetrated 47 feet. The accuracy of fire is very remarkable indeed and the accuracy of the firing by the 8 in. sub-calibre projectile absolutely unique whether in the annals of rifle or cannon practice. We have already mentioned the fact that both the artillery and engineers of our scientific departments have been most favourably impressed with the immense value and importance of the perfected aerial torpedo-thrower; both the Director of Artillery and the Inspector-General of Fortifications, who witnessed the experiments, declared that the accuracy of the weapon was unparalleled, and a General of Artillery and another of Engineers, both high in office, who were present, remarked that not only did its powers of range and undeviating accuracy far surpass that of the Brennan torpedo which it must supersede, but that the most skilled rifle practice was thrown into the shade by its performances, and the experiments were pronounced to be an unlimited success.

Messrs. Editors, I have thought that this torpedo-thrower would be of service to the country, and that they may know that torpedo-catchers are not equal to torpedo-throwers. Also that the British jack-tar does not learn or practice upon fresh water rivers. The very disgraceful abandonment of their new torpedo-catcher (Rosales) should be sufficient warning to the present government not to waste any more money upon vessels, or torpedo-catchers, for the Rio de la Plata, being useless. The loss of the Rosales, the abandonment by her officers securing themselves and abandoning the only Argentine sailors &c. The manner this business has been hushed up is far from satisfactory, and I am afraid would not stand the light of day. I therefore hand you the above if you think it worthy of a place in your paper.

Yours,
Fresh Water Sailor.

Aug. 31.

ARGENTINE CURRENCY.

(Communicated.)

All civilised countries have but one currency; why has Argentina two? The Government collects duties in gold or its equivalent in paper money; so dirty, rotten, and torn, that their employees refuse to accept it, although issued by their employers, the Government; they consider it worthless trash, and they are not far wrong: why is it not replaced by brand new, clean paper? Government also pays in the two currencies, gold and paper; it is no use for any one to contradict the fact that Argentina has two currencies, the one, gold, is an article of merchandise and speculation on the Bolsa, as much as wool, grain, &c., and the value of gold depends upon the strength of the Bull or Bear element for the moment. The City and Bolsa have been for the last three days in a dense fog as to why gold is stationary at a high level, in the absence of political humbug, or any other cause: the brokers cannot earn a living, and the living masses have to pay a death-rate price for provisions and clothing. To a man we all believe, the new President, who will take office in a few weeks, will clean out the dirtiness and prove himself honest; if so, down goes gold to 250 this year; it is to be hoped not with a rush but with a steady fall, to a permanent low level, and if the retailers' prices do not follow, there will soon be rough music in Buenos Ayres. Imports are sold in gold or paper to merchants and the retailers, and the latter sell in paper-money only.

Exports, wool, &c., are exceptional, sold for gold only: the estanciero changes into paper, with which he pays his peons and all other expenditure, and it is the interest of Government and other estancieros to keep gold at a high level; the working and middle classes are powerless, but wait a wee. Finance Minister Hansen's Report has flashed a ray of light upon the benighted public that will quickly bear fruit, rich, ripe, and luscious to the palates of the down-trodden masses; all honour to the enlightened Finance Minister that towers head and shoulders above his fellows.

It is easy to point out what is wrong, but the rub is to show a remedy. My thought is I would have but one currency, either gold or paper, and no business in any but the currency fixed upon should be legal or binding; if paper is the one currency only, exports and imports would be paid in that alone, leaving the exchange to them in gold when required for remittances. This would clear away much of the rot of the Balance of Trade theories, and quickly show the profit on both imports and exports, and be a surprise to all who believe in excess of exports over imports; if they are right tell me: why have England's imports exceeded her exports since 1845, forty-seven years, and instead of being an impoverished nation, they are the most prosperous and money-lending people in the world, although previous to 1845 a comparatively poor people. Yes, steam and railways did the trick for England, and Argentina stands to-day as an agricultural country only, as England was in 1830, with no other great interest. Manufacturing was unknown, except by hand in the cottage homes of my boyhood days.

Wide Awake.

DRY DOCKS.

Mr. Editor,

For a country with 7,000,000 tons visiting its ports, Dry Docks are indispensable, but it certainly is not necessary to construct them in the lavish manner proposed. Congress may remember the fact that 1,000,000$ gold was voted four years ago for a Dry Dock, the concession being given to General Meyer and Mr. Parfit and 490,000$ gold was advanced; the Dock was built by Clark and Stansfield, and as the balance due on it has not been paid, it is embargoed in England. This Dock would answer the purposes of the Argentine Navy. I can prove that a suitable Dock and workshops for merchant shipping can be given for just one-third of the money and would be glad to tender for such, if the opportunity were given.

If Congress were to vote £98,000 it would give the Government possession of the embargoed Naval Dock, and say £100,000 for Merchant Dock and engineering shop, total £198,000. This would be a saving of £102,000 on the sum now asked from Congress.

SALVATION REFUGE.

SATURDAY HALF HOLIDAY

15th Sept.

Mr. Editor—

I am quite certain there are very few English-speaking young men in Buenos Ayres who do not agree with the remarks of "Policy" in your issue of the 14th. It would indeed be a very great boon to have a Saturday half holiday, and if the employers would only grant it we would for ever bless them.

I have seen in to-day's STANDARD a series of sermons on the Observance of Sunday to be given in the Anglican Churches on Sunday, 18th.

I am quite certain if we had the Saturday half holiday there would be a much better attendance in the churches, and also observance of Sunday.

CONGRESS.

THE DEPUTIES.

Dr. Gilbert took the chair at 2.45 p.m.

Deputy Claros proposed a vote of $35,000 to Jujuy for telegraph lines. Sent to Public Works Committee.

Deputy Olmedo fathered a Bill to enable the debtors of the National Mortgage Bank to pay in paper the service due in gold up to 30th of September 1893. Sent to Finance Committee.

Deputy Alcobendas asked how the Budget Committee was getting on with its examination of the Budget for next year.

Deputy Obligado answered that several members of the Committee were ill, and it could not meet.

Deputy Alcobendas called for vigorous steps to compel it to meet.

Deputy Varela said the Committee wished to have the opinion of the new Government on the matter.

Deputy Alcobendas moved that the House should go into Committee to consider it.

It was decided to print the Budget Bill, distribute it amongst the members, and then discuss it in Committee of the House.

A sum of $400,000 to buy rolling stock for the Andine Railway was voted.

Also the Bill authorising the erection of a Correctional Prison.

$3,198 gold and $8,000 paper was voted as an extra credit for the Foreign Office.

$100,000 was voted for barracks for the troops in this city.

Also $36,976 extra credit for the War Department.

The House rose at 6.30 p.m.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Gold Eagle was "en evidence" again yesterday and clawed his hereditary foes the Bears a bit. Dame Rumour put on her new Spring bonnet and went about saying that there was something wrong with the brand new Cabinet Bus that is to start on the 12th prox.

Our meteorological privy councillors inform us that, in addition to the "morose" Santa Rosa gale due in a day or two, a rousing Hopkins storm may be looked for at the end of this month. Capital news for the camp this.

In Montevideo our needy neighbours are determined to "throw the house out of the window" in honour of Kit Columbus, and are preparing for an expensive jollification which they cannot afford. There is no such "entusiasmo" on this side of the river.

The mails for Europe to-day by the Patagonia close at noon.

The Rector of St. John's will be much obliged by information of the address of Mr. George W. Hamill, or by that gentleman communicating with him immediately.

The news from Santa-Fe yesterday was that the Locust war has already begun. Minister Carrasco and the wheat farmers have taken off their coats and are dealing death and gory wounds amongst the invaders. No quarter is the cry on both sides, and victory is hanging in the balance.

Bravo! the Lord Mayor. If the C. D's insist on passing the Social Evil measure that has caused such a roar of indignation from the citizens, his lordship is determined to veto it.

The Minister of the Interior will send a Message to Congress to-morrow for the issue of "boletos sanitarios" in connection with the arrival of passengers from Europe.

Mr. Luis Saenz Peña junr. has been named Inspector General of Inland Revenue.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs has a telegram saying that the new ironclad Libertad will be delivered to Captain Barilari on the 15th prox.

The P. M. G. kindly sent us a telegram from Velez-Sarsfield last night announcing a big cloud of Locusts there steering S. W.

The Rev. Lochlan McNeil, of Glew, will give a special service at the Quilmes Protestant Church to-morrow, at 4.15 p.m.

We are requested by the Rev. Mr. Pinchard to announce that, owing to an accident, it is impossible to have the Church at Lomas ready for service to-morrow, and the Special Sermon in behalf of Sunday observance will therefore be preached by Canon Adams at all Saints, Banfield at 11 a.m. At Barracas Institute the sermon in the evening will be preached by the Rev. Cecil Luckman, at 7.30 p.m.

We are asked to state that the Cricket match at Palermo to-morrow, B. A. C. C. v. Rosario Railway A. C. will commence after the arrival of the 12.15 p.m. train from Central. There will be no interval for lunch.

The steam yacht reported in the Prensa's telegram yesterday as coming up here is the Auxiliary Schooner of 831 tons, belonging to E. T. Wythes, of the Royal Yacht Squadron, who is also a member of the Royal Albert and Corinthian Club of Portsmouth.

It was our misfortune, not our fault, that we were unable to attend Mr. Russell's beer party on the roof of the Bieckert Brewery on Thursday. None of the guests were ever so high up in the world before on such a pleasant occasion, excepting one who once made a short trip in a balloon, and declares that it was by no means so pleasant as quaffing Mr. Russell's Bavaria and Pilsen beer. Then number of gentlemen in the hotel and restaurant line who accepted Mr. Russell's invitation was very large, and they gave an unanimous Scotch verdict of "Proven" that nothing in town can beat Mr. Russell's beer, especially the Pilsen, a sparkling tipple which they think will become the rage this summer. We are happy to congratulate Mr. Russell on the success of his aerial party and the revival of the interests of "the Guinness of the River Plate." We published a full description of the Brewery on visiting it with Admiral Gillies of the U. S. navy.

A notable example of the "three black crows" class of fiction comes from Yorkshire. A Scarborough clergyman found in a paper an utterly unfounded statement to the effect that his consort had presented him with triplets. He immediately caused inquiry to be made as to the source of the story, and he found it was as follows:—His married daughter and her children had arrived at his house on a visit; the event had been described by one neighbor to another as an "addition of three to the Minister's family"; by the natural law of evolution that was transformed into a case of triplets; and a local correspondent getting hold of the story sent it in that form to the papers.

Strong language is now being used in Montevideo in reference to the two B's standing dish of the day down there—the Bank and the Budget. "Robbery by Double Entry" is what the M. V. T. calls the latter.

The Children's Pantomime for the Columbus Fetes was rehearsed in the Opera House on Thursday, and went off nicely, although dozens of the small fry did not turn up. Master Zorrilla played the part of the immortal Christopher to perfection, and was overwhelmed with praise.

The pow-wow when Emperor William puts his Imperial feet on Uncle Sam's free soil will be something tremendous, and it is quite within the bounds of possibility that some other crowned heads may decide to follow the Kaiser's example and have a peep at the nest of the American Eagle. The Prince of Wales is pretty sure to be there. If Jonathan could only coax the Czar to go. It ought to be quite easy to get hold of that queer and dirty old cock the Shah of Persia.

It raises one's spirits to pay a visit to the grand new premises of Messrs. J. O. Hall & Co., spirit merchants, in Calle Balcarce, corner of Moreno. There are none finer in town, and a bird's-eye view of the enormous stock of Bird's specialities for making all kinds of domestic delicacies for the table would enchant our matron readers.

Weather fine again yesterday in the world's metropolis. News came under the sea in 16 minutes.

We are sorry that we are quite unable to afford "Subscriber" the information he seeks as to a prize fight in New Orleans. We are not ashamed to confess our invincible ignorance of such matters; rather the contrary. Apply next door.

Another night's dancing in store for us; and we have had our patent pumps newly soled for the occasion, which is to-night, in the La France Hall, where the Anglo-American Society will entertain their wide circle of friends at their fifth ball. We return our best thanks for the kind invitation sent to us.

It's not fair or polite to press people to buy what they may not happen to want; but those who know a bargain when they see it, and those who may be hard-pressed to find a good and cheap letter-press, should lose no time in calling on Messrs. Stiller and Mortlock, who are the prond accupiers of quondam "Standard Court" in Calle San Martin, with 70,000 still (er) undiscovered gold ounces under their feet. There is luck in everything connected with that dear old place; and letters copied in presses made there are certain to lead to a roaring business.

The thieving fraternity did rather a good business yesterday. They bagged $14,000 from a young man from the country in one of the city hotels, and swindled another wight out of $1,500 by the confidence trick. Mr. John Iglesias, a hackney Jehu, also parted with his watch and cash and got a mauling to boot from members of the same fraternity who hired his cab to go home at dead of night.

What a pity! However it's only a pleasure deferred. The debut of the new brutes in the Zoo at Palermo has been postponed till to-morrow week. By that time Santa Rosa will have blown and rained herself out, and everything in the Park will be as green as Ireland itself.

In view of the great success of the last performance, the game of chess with live pieces will be given again on Wednesday next at 8 p.m. in the Odeon Theatre for the benefit of the poor, by the Ladies of the St. Vincent de Paul Society of the Socorro parish. An attractive feature will also be a grand amateur concert, as will be seen by reference to our advertisement columns.

We are informed that the drawing of the Raffle of the Pope's Portrait will come off on the first Sunday in October, Rosary Sunday, immediately after the usual afternoon service in the church of the Passionist Fathers. Those who have taken Raffle Cards are requested to have them sent in a week before that time, at the latest.

The Emanuel Company scored another success at the Odeon Theatre on Thursday night in "Demi-Monde." Miss Reiter and Emanuel himself had the lion's share of the work; but they seemed to consider themselves amply repaid by the enthusiastic applause of the audience.

We are glad to see that Alderman Davison has moved in the question of immoral books in the shops and streets. It is proposed to impose a fine of 50 dollars for each offence. This will at least put an end to the abuse in the streets, if not in the shops.

Dr. Miss Grierson's Red Cross lecture on Thursday night was a great success. Her description of the human body and its wonderful mechanism was listened to with the greatest interest and proved her mastery of anatomy. She showed her audience—chiefly ladies—how to bind up wounds so quickly and deftly that, if crook-backed Richard had her on Bosworth field when he called for somebody to do him the same service, he might have polished off Richmond instead of getting knocked on the head himself

Messrs. Francois & Co., of 3415 Calle Lavalle and 731 Calle Piedad are specialists in the manufacture of hair restoring washes and depilatories, and were kind enough to favour us yesterday with samples of both. The crisis has had such an effect on our capillary attractions that we received the former with tears of joy. As for the latter, Messrs. Francois inform us that they are specially meant for ladies troubled with moustaches (a not uncommon case in these latitudes) and are very efficacious, without irritating the skin in the least.

A cashier has gone the same way as the glory of Ichabod—departed with a lot of cash for parts unknown.

We believe no further interments will be permitted in the British Cemetery after the 1st of next month; but we have as yet received no official notice to such effect.

We note a letter from Lobos in the Dia of La Plata which pays a well deserved tribute to our esteemed friend and countryman Mr. John Moore, the Mayor of the town. When Mr. Moore took office there was not a red cent in the Town cash box. Now there is a balance on hand of $20,000, after mending roads and streets and carrying out sundry improvements. The province badly wants more Mayors like Mr. John Moore; but the rub is where to find them.

Young Wife: George, dear, I want some money.—George: Why I gave you a cheque yesterday.—Young Wife: Yes dear, I know; but the doctor said I was to have plenty of change.

Queer news from Curamalan. Influenza has broken out amongst the horses in that flourishing district, and many have died.

The trees in the streets are dying for want of water, and the Director of Parks makes a touching appeal to the citizens to water them, as the Municipality cannot afford to employ men for the purpose. It would cost nothing for householders with trees in front of their hall doors to order their servants to empty a bucket of water at the roots once a day. This would save the trees.

There will be a Polo Match to-morrow on the Quilmes Club ground, between the Belgrano and the Quilmes Polo Clubs. To commence at 2.30 sharp. Mrs Marriott Woodgate will kindly preside over the tea. The sides are as follows:—Belgrano.—A. Brodie, F. Still; J. M. Mullaly, Back; E. Richards. Quilmes.—J. Leitell, F. Hope, F. Pettig

ON 'CHANGE.

Friday, September 16th 1892.
The Germans turned round to-day and began buying freely; the result was a sharp rise in gold and all kinds of comments on the causes of the sudden change in the market; many jumped at the conclusion that a screw was loose in politics, but in reality the shortage was at the bottom of the rise. Fourteen thousand ounces changed hands at the first ring; the price opened at $53.40, rose to $53.80, and closed at $53.50, say 228.72% premium. Nothing was done in sovereigns. The speculation ruled very hard all morning.
Both Patriotic and Internal Bonds ruled weaker than yesterday; the former closed at 73.20 and the latter at 67.60. There is little interest for the stock, although some brokers maintain that a pool has been formed to rig the stock.
About six thousand Catalinas were sold this morning in a dull but steady market. The stock closed at 10.80 and 10.90. Obligaciones were in demand at 1.10. Municipal Consols fell away to 58.40 for cash and 58.90 for the end of the month. Banco Inmobiliario shares were quoted at 22 and Argentine Gas shares at 52. La Plata Cedulas were firm at 29.90, but Bonos of the La Plata Mortgage Bank fell to 21.20% of their face value.
Exchange was firm at 47⅛d. on London and 5.00 to 5.01 fcs. on Paris. Discounts were easy.
The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the first ring to-day:—

We understand that Mr. Gofre's quinta on the Flores Road has not been sold, and that Mr. Pirovano is not connected with the business. The quinta is about to change hands, but at a higher figure than that stated in our last issue. It is one of the most beautiful properties on the Flores Road and the gardens are planned with great taste.

The Board of National Railways was authorized to-day to revise on the 1st prox. the tariff of the Andine Railway, excepting freight for cereals, hay, and live animals. The present tariff does not pay working expenses. The National Government approved to-day the estimates of working drawn up by the Railway Board for the Central Northern Railway and branches.

The Government has authorized the sale of 40,000 hectares of land in the Chaco to Mr. J. A. Ledesma, to start a colony.

The mails in from the United States bring the news of the arrival of the largest gold train ever known in that country. We extract the following, which may interest our readers:—

"The special fast mail train containing $20,000,000 of gold from the Pacific coast arrived at the Grand Central Station at 10.46 o'clock yesterday morning. The gold was sent from the Sub-Treasury in San Francisco to the Sub-Treasury in this city. It was part of the $100,000,000 surplus in the Treasury at San Francisco, and was shipped here to meet the great Eastern demand for gold for shipment to Europe. The demand in San Francisco for gold is comparatively small while in this city it is always large. The demand here has been especially heavy recently, and the Treasury authorities have had hard work to respond to it. The shipment was of eagle and half-eagle gold coin, and was packed in 500 white cedar boxes. Each box was a foot high, a foot wide and eighteen inches long. The boxes were built of inch and a quarter stuff, put together with long screws. On each end of each box was an iron handle. Each box weighed 190 pounds gross, and held 150 pounds of gold in eight bags. Each bag weighed 18 pounds, and contained $5,000. A boxful was worth $40,000. Every box was registered separately and was sealed twice with the official seal, in red wax, of Col. J. P. Jackson, Assistant United States Treasurer at San Francisco. The registry numbers were 4,421 to 4,920, inclusive. The entire shipment weighed 75,000 pounds or thirty-seven and one-half tons. Each ton was valued at $533,333.33⅓. It took 5 hours to put it upon the train."

Estancieros and property holders in the province of Buenos Ayres will be glad to hear the new Minister of Hacienda for the province begins his ministerial career with an act which will tend to give great popularity to Governor Costa and his Government. A new valuation of all properties in the province is to be made, reducing the excessive appraisements which the Government put on during the years of boom. All those rascally Centro Agricolo valuations which raise by comparison the value of sheep lands to such a figure that sheepfarming under such circumstances was always ruin; all these valuations will now be reduced and placed on their proper level. We hold that no sheep land in the province of B. Ayres can be intrinsically worth over £10,000 sterling the square league; owners of course may put fancy prices on their properties, and sheepfarmers who have taken a fancy to a bit of land alongside their own may pay exorbitant prices. We know on the authority of Mr. John Moore, a wealthy representative estanciero, that half a league of good land in Lobos is considered so cheap at the price of $120,000 that there is none to be had at that rate; nevertheless we stoutly maintain that as a business sheepfarming cannot be conducted with a profit on lands of such value. As for cattle farming, which is less remunerative, it is blue ruin to keep cows on lands of such high value, and now that a new valuation of estancia property is to be made, we hope that the Rural Society or the new Land league will take some intervention in the matter, and will see that proper appraisers be named and that the country be rid of Centro Agricolo and Mortgage Bank valuators. We hail with pleasure this new step of this new Minister and trust that Governor Costa will follow in the "senda" in other provincial affairs.

The latest news in town from Montevideo about the mystical loan is that Sr. Kubly has gone over from Paris to London to interview some bankers, where there is every probability of its being carried out. Montevideo is for us such a land of wonders that we can offer no opinion on the subject. To the business mind the loan seems impossible, but to the Montevidean judgment it is feasible. Kubly, we suppose, to-day is lunching in the Palmerston with a few chosen city Hebrews, whose visions of lofty commissions, based on those paid last year to the members of the shining consolidated circle, give to their judgment a generosity of sentiment not usual to their creed. Nobody in Montevideo, we believe, ever yet heard the exact amount of the commissions paid to the London Bankers last year on the paring down of the interest and the consolidation of the debt; but the sands of the Montevidean financial hour class are fast passing away, and if Mr. Kubly, lulled by the fascinations of Paris, the drives in the Bois, and the promenades on the Boulevards, forgets the "apuro" of his friends in Montevideo; if during his stay in London the attractions of that great city, the luxury of Hotel life at the "Metropole," theatrical life at the "Empire" and city life at the "Palmerston," dull his energies and procrastinate the business, he must indeed have forgotten his friends in Montevideo and their hard up state; the money spent in telegrams on this loan business is already a formidable item. Judging by the frequency of those telegrams Mr. Kubly is doing all he can to close up the business, but except President Herrera and his friends, nobody believes that the loan will be done, and the expenses of Mr. Kubly's sojourn in Europe will perhaps be the only lasting record of this much discussed Oriental "Empresito."

The whole commercial community heard with deep regret yesterday of the death of Mr. Hoffman in Montevideo. He was a man greatly esteemed on both sides of the Plate, and as banker and local director, in Montevideo, of the Liebig Meat Company, he occupied a prominent representative position which in nothing changed his great simplicity of manner and retiring disposition. He died, leaving a very large fortune, sincerely regretted by all who knew him

We have letters from Bragado announcing the splendid success of the great cattle fair there, which was opened yesterday in the presence of some 2000 farmers, estancieros and shopkeepers. These country cattle fairs are going ahead famously and productive of the greatest good, which we owe to our old friend and countryman, Mr. Nicholas Lowe of Mercedes who, we believe, originated them.

Within the last few days there has been a good movement in our wool market and close on 100,000 kilos have been sold in various lots in the different deposits and of various qualities, at prices ranging from 7.80 to 9.10 per 10 kilos; a large lot of Lincoln lambs wool was sold yesterday at 7.50.

Messers Collet and Llambi sold yesterday 270 squares of the camp in Cañuelas, distant 20 squares from Uribelarea station, for the sum of $155 per sq., buyer Carlos A. Estrada.

Messrs. Bullrich and Co. sold yesterday 20 Rambouillet rams from the Cabaña Olivera as follows: 2 at $700 each, 2 at 600 each, 1 at 300, 2 at 240, 1 at 270, 1 at 260, 1 at 250, 1 at 230, 2 at 220 each, 2 at 200 each, 1 at 190, 1 at 180, 1 at 150, 2 at 110 each. The lot averaged 301,50 ℔'s or a total of 6,030 ℔'s. Buyers: Messrs. Masuret, McGuire, Fernandez, J. Ham, Orpha, Berrondo, Bernal, Vivot, Kelsey and Co. They also sold a fine lot of Clydesdale horses belonging to Mr. Thomas Bell, as follows:—1 at 500 to Dr. Anchorena, 1 at 730 to Sr. Moras. 1 at 600 to Dr. Anchorena, 1 at 600 to same, 1 at 1000 to Sr. Mariano Acosta, 1 at 900 to Sr. Felipe May and Co., 1 at 1250 to Sr. M. Acosta, 2 at 2000 to Sr. J. Torres, and 1 at 1000 to Dr. Anchorena. Also a thoroughbred filly to Sr. Moreno at 700.

It may interest bankers and others to know that the Caja de Conversion has just paid to the British Bank of South America the sum of $5,625⅝ gold, being the service on the 4½ % bonds which that bank holds deposited under the free banking law. We must, indeed, compliment Mr. Heriot, the manager, on his admirable good sense and judgment in this business. We believe that he alone, of all the private foreign bankers in this market who came under the free banking law, held on to his bonds and did not fall into the error of returning his emission. Had the other banks followed Mr. Heriot's example, they would to-day be much better situated, since they would hold their paper issue in the market for discounts, they would escape heavy taxation on their deposits and earnings, and they would receive their coupon money on the bonds deposited in the Caja de Conversion. The business of the British Bank of South America is a veritable sarcasm on the vaunted wisdom of the other banks, and shows how wonderfully things fall out in the River Plate, oftentimes defeating what we suppose the shrewdest judgment. All the other private banks in town are taxed up to the eyes, and 10 % of their profit goes to the Government. The capital which they subscribed in gold is merely represented by 4½ % bonds, which, if they had left alone in the Caja de Conversion, it would stand to cost them nothing, since the value of those bonds would be represented by their own notes, which, in too wise a moment they surrendered. Mr. Heriot, to our mind, stands head and shoulders over all his colleagues, for his great foresight; and oftentimes in the affairs of life we see it that it is wise to be unwise at times, and in the mellowed light of the great crisis lamp that hangs in every bank parlour we look back on the hurry-scurry with which bank managers returned their bank notes to the Caja de Conversion, got up their bonds and thanked Heaven they were free from the free-bank compromise. All the market approved of their wisdom, their discretion, and their prudence; but all the market erred, the blunder was a tremendous one, at least for some of those banks, and the shareholders who opposed the conduct of the directors and managers were looked upon as "sonzos." Time, however, has proved that the real "sonzos" were the bank-wise-acres.

National Boletos de Ubicacion are very freely offered in the market, and, as some of our readers may not know much about this stock or its value, it is well to explain it. These boletos were given to the Army as premium for services in the Rio Negro expedition. When first issued they were thought a good spec, and were bought from the soldiers and officers and their agents at high prices. Syndicates of Englishmen were formed to buy them up, and dropped in the business a very large amount of money. These boletos give the holder the right to "ubicar" or exchange them for land South of the Rio Negro; but the difficulties attending what is called the "ubicacion" are so great that the purchase of this stock is very risky, and we should not advise any of our friends to invest even at the present low prices unless they have a certainty of being able to exchange them for land. One lot of these boletos for 80,000 hectares is now offering; 40 cents the hectare is the price asked, and we suppose they can be bought cheaper. There are also Provincial Boletos de Ubicacion in the market, but these are held up and are very dear. They give the holder the right to "ubicar" in Government lands of the province.

With much pleasure we announce that Messrs. Ricardo Eastman and Santiago Kenny have entered into partnership to carry on the business of produce brokers, making banking business a speciality. This is good news for our friends the farmers, as both partners have a wide connection both in town and camp, and we auger for the firm the very best support.

Many parties attributed the sudden rise in gold to-day to some suspicious political rumours, which in certain quarters have caused anxiety, but we rather think the half monthly 'venzimientos' have had more to do with the gold market than politics.

To-morrow, Saturday, the time for paying up the 3rd call on the shares of the "Ferro-carriles Pobladores" expires. The call is 10 per cent.

The Mercurio sailed to-day filled with passengers and cargo for Patagones, amongst her passengers are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Buckland of San Blas, Dr. Andrews of London, Mr. Cerro, customs collectors Mr. and Mrs Caparavici, and other. It was rumoured on board that the Mercurio and other Platense steamers were bought yesterday by Mr. Ribes of Montevideo.

The important case of G. J. Paez with the Mortgage Bank of La Plata has just been decided by the Supreme Federal Court in favour of Mr. Paez. He claimed right to pay off mortgages in Bonos, Cedulas, etc. The Bank refused to accept them. The Federal Judge decided against the Bank; it appealed, and now the final judgment has also gone against it. The amount involved was $250,000.

When they finish the three cornered fight going on at present between the Landlord, the Directory of the above mentioned Bank, and the old Lady Justice, as to whether or not the Directors must return the rooms in our rear lately occupied by them, in the same condition as they took them, we shall be able to fit them up to make room for our marine and Hail Insurance Departments, trusting that until that time our increasing clientage will kindly excuse the annoyances that follow from lack of space.
